Issue 89

UK & EIRE 2 Guineas (£2.10) USA $5.00

This month we have a camper with the roof raised which is part of a series of models covering the leisure market. The J2 was such a versatile vehicle that many were worked around the clock meaning few survived. Fortunately the campers had an easier life and it's not surprising that some of these are still to be found. Coachwork firms were quick to take up the J2 for specialist conversions as the versatility of the chassis and standard body panels meant that a huge variety of vehicles could be built. We hope to add camping themes across all of our releases and we have already shown pre-production shots of the Morris Minor last month. The reverse side of the model has a second slide variant with two windows, the rear door is the single slide version.

It was nice to see recently that readers of the magazine Model Collector voted our 1:43rd Ice Cream vehicles the best models in this scale for 2006. Well we've got more to add to this range as you'll see in the coming months. The Morris Minor variant is particularly nice and a must if you've got some of the other vehicles in the collection. This body conversion can still be seen at shows around the country with the livery Tognarelli.

As well as the camper versions we also have two Ambulances releasing this month with the Morris grille. There were so many companies that carried out conversions that's it's difficult to keep track of them all. Some of the more popular were Woodham Brothers, Central Garage (Paralanian), Cotswold, Bluebird, Martin Waters, Autosleeper, Calthorpe and Pitt and Car-Camper. I'm sure some of you will know others, so if you do, drop us a line and we'll add them to our list. Many of the ambulances had diesel engines which was their downfall as most were auctioned and broken down for their engines which were ideal for boats.

SECURICOR

MV020
Securicor
Edition 2,000

Just before the second world war former cabinet minister Edward Shortt KC created the company Night Watch Services Ltd. The company was soon suspended, but after the war it was revived and moved from residential guarding into industrial security. Known to the public as "Security Corps", the Home Office considered the name too military. It was therefore shortened to Securicor. During the 1960's it developed into a nationwide operator with numerous branches and a radio communications network. It also introduced fleets of vans moving customers confidential information such as payroll and banking details. Our Mini van would have been used in inner city areas being able to quickly navigate the small towns.

Leonard Rossiter was a distinguished actor known mainly for his comedy roles during the seventies. In Rising Damp he played Rigsby the lecherous landlord of a house converted into a block of seedy bedsits. Miss Jones was never far from his thoughts! He also appeared in The Fall and Rise of Regional Perrin. He died in 1984, aged 58, at the Lyric Theatre in London.

A word from Michael

We are starting to create a few shockwaves as we accelerate our programme of new bodyshape releases and next month we'll tell you which 1:76 cars are coming - you'll love them!

The first off Chipperfield castings trials went a lot smoother than we thought, so it looks as though we could be on time for the release in June - maybe a little earlier - we'll have to wait and see. The Paralanian castings look nice as well.

I'm taking a short break at the moment with a few running repairs. I'll be back to full fitness soon.

Until next time

Take care

1:76 Releases

As promised we are releasing the first of our series of 1:76 models. This is an exciting new range and one that is set to grow over the next few years. We start with some popular liveries on the Mini, the Morris Minor and Anglia. They are railway scale (00) and come competitively priced at £2.95 each, on a plinth with a clear plastic top. You can buy as 6 for 4 purchasing. Next month as well as featuring some more liveries we release news on the next set of 1:76 castings. These models are ideal for railway collectors and we have already had very positive reviews on recent shows.

76ANG002 Walls Ice Cream

Standard and Platinum members will get the 76ANG002 as part of their re-joining package. Demand for our products has been so high that we anticipate sending these free items out in May. We have produced 2,500 of each these liveries (more of the 76ANG002) and they are not certificated as we will produce more if required to satisfy the demand of railway collectors. The railway fraternity is aware of their existence and at the time of writing - it looks as though we may have underestimated demand. We apologise for anyone who may have to wait a few weeks because of this.
