76LTR001 Leyland Car Transporter – Rover

Land Rover commissioned a fleet of specially built Leyland Transporters, designed so the Land Rovers could be delivered with their windcreens folded flat on the bonnet and the hoops and canvas folded onto the rear body.

Brand new tooling brings you an Oxford replica of the Transporter and Trailer, which are available separately.

Our thanks go to Mr Ken Wheelwright of Hebden Bridge, who kindly allowed our design team to photograph and measure his fully restored Transporter.

You can also add as many Land Rovers as you like to load onto your Transporter, creating further realism. Under model number 76LAN180005, the Land Rovers are decorated in plain Bronze Green. These are shown overleaf. A word of warning for those who try and fit earlier versions of the Land Rover on the transporters, they won't fit below deck - because they are not meant to. You can see on the pictures opposite how the Land Rovers were loaded on to the rear trailer, up over the cab. True to the original, the top deck of the main unit can be posed in two positions. We've even thrown in a few ramps which can be found under the plinth. TAFF

76LAN180005 Land Rover Series 1 80 inch Flat Back

Another new casting - this time the 80 inch

Land Rover. The unusual description of this latest Oxford Land Rover is explained by the fact that when despatching the vehicles from the factory, Leyland had them almost 'flat packed' so they would fit on the car transporter! The windscreen was folded down, as was the canvas back, all ready to load. Ours, decorated in signature Land Rover green with similar wheel trim, comes in exactly the same format to fit on the Leyland car transporter and trailer. You could do with a few of these Land Rovers, to fill up the trailer. Due to the lower bottom deck height, don't expect some of our other variant of Land Rovers to fit. You can fit 4 Land Rovers on the front section and 4 on the rear.

For all Land Rover enthusiasts, be assured that we will release HUE 166 at this scale in the coming months, we will also add a 5 piece collection to our range featuring some of the most popular Land Rovers that have been released in the series. TAFF 76SFE001 Scania CP28 Pump Ladder – Cleveland Fire Brigade.

Brand new Oxford tooling brings another authentic and contemporary fire appliance that emergency vehicle enthusiasts can now add to their line up of fire vehicles. The Scania CP28 refers to the cab section of the Pump Ladder fire vehicle and is built to accommodate a 6-person crew.

76MFE001 MAN Pump Ladder – Avon Fire & Rescue

Another newly tooled introduction in Oxford's Commercial range sees this up to date fire appliance, as used by the Avon Fire & Rescue Service. WX57 THN is one of a fleet of 84 fire appliances including 52 Pumpers, currently used by the Service, which covers an area of 134,753 hectares and serves over a million people in the south west of England.

Enthusiasts collecting emergency services vehicles can add this new Oxford fire appliance to their contemporary collection, as it is of the modern era from the year 2000 to the present day.

We have teamed up with Fire Brigade models on this modern range, so you will see there is a special wrap for this variant. During our early investigations into the design of the Scania, we found that Fire Brigade Models were also interested in making a version. So we decided to join forces, with the purpose of avoiding a duplication of products in the marketplace. The result - instead of two Scantias being tooled, between us we have a Scania, a MAN and next month an aerial version.

The Cortina was introduced in 1962 and changed the face of British motoring. It was a risk Ford took and one which paid off. In 1963 the Cortina became the market leader, a trend it kept up for the next two decades. In total there were over 1,000,000 Mk3's made.

76WOL001 Wolseley 6/80 – Metropolitan Police

A welcome addition to the Oxford series of 1:76 cars from the era of nostalgia is the brand new Wolseley 6/80. Launched in 1948, production ran until 1954, during which time over 25,000 cars rolled off the Nuffield Company owned production line.

Powered by a 2215cc 72 bhp six cylinder engine with four speed gearbox, the 6/80 was used extensively as a Police patrol car, where its power – it had a top speed of 81 mph - and reliability were appreciated.

Collectors of police cars will be pleased that our first Oxford release on the 6/80 is a miniature of the car as used by the Metropolitan Police, complete with all the detail you'd expect from a police car of the period.

76WOL002 Wolseley 6/80 – Maroon

The Wolseley 6/80 was quite prestigious for its time. The four-door saloon, with seating capacity for four people, could reach 0-60 in 24.4 seconds, although petrol consumption by today's standards was quite high at 20 mpg. Here again, we've included the detailed chrome effect with the coach lines along the side, as well as front and rear bumpers and radiator grille. The wheels have also been lined with maroon, in keeping with the main body of the car.

76MS003 Morris 6 Black

Post-war saloon manufactured by Morris - British Motor Company between 1948 and 1953. Costing just £671, including tax, the car had a top speed of 82.5 mph, highly adequate for the roads of the day! We are always asked to produce black versions of many of the 50's cars, as they were so common on the roads.

The Mk IX Jaguar was manufactured at the Browns Lane, Allesley, Jaguar plant for a very short period between 1959 and 1961 and remarkably, only 10,000 were made. It replaced the Mk VIII and although it was not much different to look at, its updated mechanical specification and its sporty image ensured its ongoing popularity for those with a love of speed and spirited style, both on the racing circuit and on the road. Most of the Mk IXs had a dual colour scheme, with the darker colour on top.
