WELCOME TO OUR STRUCTURES EDITION

COVER STORY: It's still early, and while things might be quiet now, the fun will be rolling well into the evening here at the local lanes! Alleys are dressed, pin-setting machines adjusted, shoes and ball rentals are ready, the kitchen and snack bar are restocked and it looks like the manager is almost ready to open the front doors to the first wave of tonight's customers. Whether its daytime leagues, after school family fun and a break from the kitchen for mom, or some good-natured team and league competition, the local bowling alley has long been a fixture of communities big and small. Our newest HO Cornerstone kit brings back all the fun, perfect for layouts from the 1950s to the present day. Like a 300-game, its huge wall-mounted signs, colorful graphics and the one-of-a-kind street sign for the front entrance, make it a perfect score for any busy street scene. For more photos, features and information, turn to page 16!

From classic brick to contemporary steel, there's a Cornerstone kit that'll take your trackside scenes to the ultimate level of realism. Our designers meticulously research every subject, then develop kits that are straightforward to assemble and fun to build. No other manufacturer offers the variety of prototypical subjects that are available from Cornerstone.

A new locomotive, the GE AC4400CW, was introduced to tame the three percent grades, hauling massive tonnage at 10,000+ feet in elevation. This included 13,000+ ton coal and taconite trains, double-stack intermodal trains and a fleet of merchandise freights. Hardcover, 128 pages. 484-1777 Volume 8: Hauling Freight over the Great Divide
